Amsterdam

Amsterdam is the Netherlands' capital. It is paradise for explorers. You'll discover something wonderful at every turn. Amsterdam beauty is not all God given; humankind has played a role in shaping this pretty face too. It is known for its artistic heritage, elaborate canal system, Museum District houses, Tulip gardens, Windmills, Cheese, Wooden Shoes, Dutch painters, Delft a canal-ringed city in the western Netherlands known as the manufacturing base for Delftware, hand-painted blue-and-white pottery and narrow houses with gabled facades, legacies of the city's 17th-century Golden Age. The city has an Oceanic climate. Cycling is key to the city's character, and there are numerous bike paths. The Netherlands is not known for its cuisine, but one should try some of the traditional Dutch food.
